Description:

Bracken is a very easy going alpaca, halter trained, and is a good solid colour. Bracken has a soft handling fleece and is a true to type tuxedo silver grey female. She has previously had a grey, and black cria. We have decided to breed her this year to Cambridge Shotgun, a grey stud male, this will enhance the fleece quality, and with grey on his sires side, there is a good possibility of a grey cria. We have had Bracken from birth and will be the easiest alpaca to handle on your farm! She has a very grey pedigree, her sire is Bozedown Greystoke (Son of The Chief of Bozedown) and her dam is Oakley Fern, a rose grey female we still have here on the farm. Bracken is ready to leave the farm now we have confirmed her pregnancy.
