Description:

Clementine is a stocky, well conformed female with great density in her fleece, and no that isn't mud on her shoulder, its a whole load of brown spots! Her offspring are a vast improvement on herself and she definitely has more potential that is yet to be unlocked.

Clementine would be a great addition to anyone just starting out in alpaca breeding who wants an easy going and experienced breeding female.

Number of Crias bred from female: 3
