Description:

Ezra used to be one of our studs and was castrated in April '24 because we have had a change in circumstances and won't be needing his services anymore.

As he is a dominant male in the field and could so far only live with other entire males, we decided to castrate him to keep all our males (incl weanlings and golden oldies) back together again and make sure he has plenty of friends in his early retirement!

Ezra is fully halter trained and has been to events with us mere weeks after breeding season, behaving impeccably even around a male he has not previously lived with. He would be an asset to any walking operation that uses grown males; at this early stage in his castration, we would not sell him to a home with weanlings or old boys.

Ezra will only be sold into a pre-existing or newly-formed herd of at least three mature males.

Please contact me if you have any questions or would like to meet Ezra in person.
