Description:

Honey Bun is a proven pregnant fawn huacaya female, out of my multi-Champion Black female Midnight Mystery (Champion Black with her senior fleece in 2019). She has perfect conformation and great strength of bone. In common with all of her siblings, Honey grows a really good staple length, and has very good fleece coverage. She had a very attractive dark brown cria last year, who exhibits a very bright, fine and long fleece, with a high frequency style crimp.

We cannot wait to see what Honey Bun produces this year, as she has been paired with WB Illustrious, who is an absolutely stunning son of Snowmass Bronze Royalty! Honey's Dam is a multi-Champion black daughter of Snowmass Sizlin Hot (sire of numerous Champions), so I anticipate the combination to produce a very special cria with gorgeous phenotype and longevity of fineness, as well as many other enduring positive fleece qualities!

Name of covering male: WILLOWBROOK ILLUSTRIOUS (BRONZE ROYALTY SON) (Light Brown)

Last Mating Date: 18th July 2023
