Description:

Wyona Alpaca Stud in Australia has long been respected as a breeder of quality black huacayas. After a long search in Australia we selected Wyona Casa Nero as he exhibited the traits that we long for in our breeding programme. Wyona Casa Nero is a well proportioned male who has a robust frame, a high level of fibre coverage and a pleasing look. The fleece that Casa Nero is growing is where he really comes to the fore as it is very dense, fine, extremely bright and long stapled. Each staple is deep crimping, the fibres are well aligned and uniform in micron while being amazingly even in colour which is a deep true black. We not only selected Wyona Casa Nero on his phenotype but also the depth of colour and quality in his pedigree. All four generations are black and this will result in a high yield of quality black cria. Wyona Casa Nero offers breeders a low risk option as he is a male that has great breeding and pedigree, awesome show results and a phenotype that is highly desirable. Wyona Casa Nero is co-owned by Inca Alpaca, UK.
