Description:

Dr Enys is a very striking macho suri male.

We selected this male to join our elite breeding program not only for his super genetics, but for his exquisite fleece and conformation traits.

His fleece is very dense, impressively fine with great uniformity of micron giving it a beautiful slick handle. His impressive lustre runs from head to toe along with fantastic fleece coverage.

He stands on a very strong frame with a deep broad chest. He has a lovely true to type head style and triangular muzzle.

We know he can produce dark coloured offspring so we are very excited to see what he can do for our breeding program.
