Description:

Inca Palladium is one of the newest herd sires to join our group and be used in our breeding programme. He is a son of the famous Lillyfield Jack of Spades and to anyone who knows Jack, Inca Palladium is easy recognisable.

This young sire brings elegance and style in the form of a deep true black huacaya. His presence and movement is second to none and the level of fibre coverage and uniformity of colour is highly desirable.

Inca Palladium brings the positive aspects of both parents to his phenotype as he exhibits a long stapled and uniform fleece that is bright, dense low in primary fibre diameter and very soft handling.

This male has been selected to be used in areas where a EE colour tested male is required and also a stylish and robust frame. With such a depth of high quality and proven genetics in his pedigree and a look to match, this sire brings another elite option to any black breeding programme.

Inca Palladium has also been selected due to his fast growth, early weaning, early maturation and aversion to worms, coccidia and mites.
